President of the Normandy Region

This 5th iteration of the Normandy World Peace Forum, is taking place against a backdrop of particularly disturbing international events, marked mainly by the terrible conflict currently taking place in Ukraine. The consequences of this war, combined with those of the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, pose major risks of destabilisation for the rest of the world, particularly in terms of food and economics.

In this difficult context and in the continuity of the considerable work of remembrance carried out in our region since 1945, Normandy is once again reaffirming its attachment to the values of peace and freedom of which it has been the ambassador for nearly 80 years. More than ever, through this Forum, the Region hopes to make a concrete commitment by offering the keys to today's generations, and more particularly to young people, to enable each person to become a builder of peace at their own level.

This is why this year, for the first time since the creation of the Forum in 2018, the event will be held on a Saturday to allow as many people as possible to participate. Hence, on Saturday 24 September, in addition to the conferences and debates that are at the heart of the Forum, the Village for Peace will offer activities dedicated to families, such as live shows, exhibitions, fun workshops and testimonies.

While the success of the Forum has never wavered, with an ever-growing audience of curious people and experts, this 2022 iteration will once again aim to bring together all those who share the desire to build a fairer world and to commit themselves to peace and freedom.

PLENARY CONFERENCE

WALLS, OBSTACLES TO PEACE

9.30AM - 11.30AM

Salle plénière

→ In the 20th century, walls were symbolic of the confrontation between the two blocs. After the fall of the Berlin Wall and the advent of a world of free trade and free movement, they did not disappear.

On the contrary, others appeared with the same security justifications and the same symbolic significance. Since the wall between Israel and the Palestinian Territories, the so-called "migration crises" have been used to justify walls all over the world, from the United States and Mexico, to India and Bangladesh, to Hungary and Romania. Of course, walls are not just physical. Inequalities further divide populations and foster extreme ideologies that lead to fanaticism.

JOURNALISTS: THOSE VOICES BEYOND THE WALLS

Decoding the stakes of the 2021 nobel peace prize

---

2PM - 3.30PM

Salle Azur

MODERATOR

Grégory RAYKO,
Head of International
Section, The Conversation
France

With the participation of Reporters Without Borders

→ Walls enclose journalism, and this is not just a metaphor. As of 26 July 2022, Reporters Without Borders counted a record 524 journalists imprisoned for their work. Beyond that, there are also immaterial walls: legislative, digital, and those of denigration or concealment. How can we enable journalism to go "Beyond the Walls"? What actions should be taken for free, pluralist and independent journalism? How can we guarantee and even strengthen the right of all to reliable information?

SPEAKERS

- Antoine BERNARD | Director of Advocacy & Assistance, Reporters Without Borders (RSF)
- Liseron BOUDOUL | senior reporter, TFI

TAIWAN, GIVING UP PEACE TO AVOID WAR?

2PM - 3.30PM

Salle Or

MODERATOR

Jean-François
DI MEGLIO,
President of
Asia Centre

In partnership with Asia Centre

→ The conflict in Ukraine has rekindled concerns about the prevailing conflict in the "Indo-Pacific". At the top of the region's key issues, Taiwan is the focus of attention. After the Ukrainian experience, are the safest scenarios the most likely? With the unification of China's territories being a priority, will Xi Jinping want to act before the 20th CCP Congress to consolidate his power? Will Asia's future be a "Hot Peace" or a "Cold War"?

SPEAKERS

- Antoine BONDAZ | Researcher at the Foundation for Strategic Research
- Laurence DEFRAUX | Journalist, Libération
- Vincent GRILLON | Strategy Consultant and Senior Analyst East Asia for AESMA
- Joseph WU | MFA Taiwan (video)
- François WU | Ambassador of Taiwan

WAR IN UKRAINE: VLADIMIR PUTIN AND THE POST-SOVIET SPACE

---

2PM - 3.30PM

Salle plénière

MODERATOR

Emilie AUBRY,
Editor-in-Chief of Mapping the World

Sequence led by the "Dessous des Cartes" team

→ After the screening of a new episode of the programme "Mapping the World", Emilie Aubry, editor-in-chief, and Tatiana Kastoueva-Jean, director of the Russia/NEI Centre at IFRI, will discuss with the audience the issues at stake in the War in Ukraine: denial of Ukrainian cohesion, the gamble of a divided West, was Vladimir Putin wrong in his analysis? What are the consequences for Russian influence in the post-Soviet space? From the EU to NATO, does the return of war to Europe signal a new era?

SPEAKERS

- Emilie AUBRY | Editor-in-Chief of Mapping the World
- Tatiana KASTOEVA JEAN | Researcher and Director of the Russia/NEI Centre at IFRI

ISRAEL-PALESTINE: WALLS, OBSTACLES TO PEACE

---

2PM - 3.30PM

Salle Nacre

MODERATOR

Hala KODMANI,
Senior reporter,
Libération

In partnership with the Arab World Institute

→ For twenty years, the wall erected by the Israeli government following the second intifada has drastically limited Palestinians' freedom of movement. Some call it a "wall of shame" and an "apartheid wall", others call it a "security fence" and an "anti-terrorist barrier". Other walls, economic, sociological and historical, are being erected in parallel. Are they impassable? What role can citizen and artistic movements play in promoting living together?

SPEAKERS

- Hanna ASSOULINE | Documentary film-maker
- René BACKMANN | Journalist and humanitarian
- Damien SIMONNEAU | Lecturer at INALCO

RETHINKING EUROPEAN SECURITY?

2PM - 3.30PM

Auditorium

MODERATOR

Emmanuel DUPUY,
President of the Institute for Prospective and Security in Europe

SPEAKERS

- › Vincent DESPORTES | General, former Director of the Ecole de Guerre
- › Cristian DIACONESCU | Member of the Scientific Council of the New Strategy Centre, former Minister of Foreign Affairs of Romania
- › Alexandre VAUTRAVERS | Editor-in-Chief of the Swiss Military Review, Professor at the University of Geneva

In partnership with the Institute for Prospective and Security in Europe

→ War in Ukraine, Covid, the "migration crisis" and diplomatic and financial pressure from neighbouring countries... the European Union faces significant challenges. In this context, how can we rethink European collective security? How can we ensure the intra-European cohesion that is indispensable for maintaining a credible defence?

DECIPHERING THE WORLD AT A TIME OF WAR IN UKRAINE

Focusing on security in Europe and the Russian-Ukrainian conflict

After several years of uncertainty, the outbreak of the war in Ukraine has revived the fear of war on the European continent. Debates on security in Europe are being revived. The European Union must reassess its relations with its environment. In the East, Vladimir Putin's Russia is using Belarus as a base for its invasion of Ukraine. In the South, Europe has lost ground to other powers seeking to gain influence on the African continent. Europe must also be alert to threats within its own borders. The rise of nationalism is accompanied by a resurgence of border walls that jeopardise Europe's ideal of openness..

To help you better understand the conflict and analyse the issues at stake, the Forum offers several sequences:

- Rethinking security in Europe
- Europe, the return of the blocs?
- What is the future for a democratic Belarus?
- International institutions and war in Ukraine: from disapproval to action?
- Ukraine and Russia: several cultures, one influence
- Understanding the war in Ukraine on the Studio Agora

WHAT IS THE FUTURE FOR A DEMOCRATIC BELARUS?

4.30 PM - 6 PM

Auditorium

MODERATOR

Antoine ARJAKOVSKY,

Director of Research
at the Collège des
Bernardins

In partnership with the Collège des Bernardins

→ The last "dictatorship in Europe", Alexander Lukashenko's Belarus has seen a strong mobilisation of opponents in 2020-2021. After resorting to repressing opponents and retaliating against neighbouring countries that welcome them, it has become the rear base for the invasion of Ukraine, illustrating Russia's influence. What democracy can emerge in Belarus and how?

SPEAKERS

➤ Pavel LATUSHKA | Former Belarusian Minister of Culture

➤ Jakub PRZETACZNIK | Researcher at the European Parliament Research Service

➤ Alice SYRAKVASH | Co-president of the association Communauté des Belarusses in Paris

➤ Violaine de VILLEMEUR | Special Envoy for Belarus

NORTH KOREA, WHAT IS BEHIND THE WALLS?

---

4.30 PM - 6 PM

Salle Azur

In partnership with the Foundation for Strategic Research

→ North Korea is still regarded as one of the most closed countries in the world. This closure has increased in recent years due to international sanctions and, above all, the pandemic. How then can we avoid a lack of knowledge of the country triggering a conflict? This is the role of diplomats, academics and humanitarians who, through a difficult but essential dialogue with the country's authorities, are trying to understand it better and help avoid future crises..

SPEAKERS

➤ Antoine BONDAZ | Researcher at the Foundation for Strategic Research

➤ Patrick MAURUS | Professor emeritus of Korean language and literature at the Institut National des Langues et Civilisations Orientales (Paris)

➤ Véronique MONDON | Head of Mission Iraq at Triangle Génération Humanitaire

INTERNATIONAL INSTITUTIONS AND WAR IN UKRAINE: FROM DISAPPROVAL TO ACTION?

4.30 PM - 6 PM

Salle Or

→ While the governance of the UN has been increasingly criticised for the last ten years, the conflict between Ukraine and Russia, a permanent member of the Security Council, once again highlights the powerlessness of the United Nations in the face of international conflicts. The difficulty that international institutions have in finding a consensus to guarantee peace and respect for human rights in conflicts highlights the need to rethink their operation.

SPEAKERS

- › Vadym OMELCHENKO | Ambassador of Ukraine to France
- › Céline BARDET | Founder and President, We are not Weapons of War, lawyer and international criminal investigator
- › Fabienne KELLER | Member of the European Parliament
- › François RIVASSEAU | Former French Ambassador to the UN in Geneva. Professor at Kedge business school

PERSECUTED UYGHURS: HOW CAN WE BREAK DOWN THE WALLS OF SILENCE?

4.30 PM - 6 PM

Salle plénière

MODERATOR

Baptiste FALLEVOZ, Editor-in-Chief and
columnist, France 24

In partnership with Amnesty International

→ Hundreds of thousands of Uighurs in Xinjiang are interned and persecuted in so-called "vocational education and training centres". The Chinese authorities have created a dystopian environment for Muslim minorities, while millions of others live in fear at the mercy of a sprawling surveillance system. How do we explain and break the silence of the international community in the face of the magnitude of these human rights violations?

SPEAKERS

- Rémi CASTETS | Lecturer in the Department of Chinese of Chinese Studies at the University of Bordeaux Montaigne
- Laurence DEFRANOUX | Asia Journalist, Libération
- Marine MAZEL | Uyghur Institute of Europe
- Jean-Claude SAMOUILER | President of Amnesty International France

4.30 PM - 6 PM

Salle Nacre

MODERATOR

Marc SEMO,

Deputy Editor-in-Chief of the "ideas-debates"
pages, Le Monde

In partnership with Le Monde

→ The Russian aggression against Ukraine has stunned Europeans in two ways: not only is an inter-state war back on the Old Continent for the first time since 1945, but it is also taking hold for the long term. What will tomorrow's geopolitical Europe look like after the Ukrainian assertion, the Russian strategic failure, the enlargement of the Atlantic camp and an undoubtedly lasting fracture with Russia? Is it the return of the Europe of blocs and an iron curtain moved much further east?

SPEAKERS

› Michel DUCLOS | Special Advisor to the Montaigne Institute

› Sabine DULLIN | Professor of contemporary Russian history, Science Po, Author

› Nicole GNESOTTO | Professor emeritus at CNAM, Vice-President of the Jacques Delors Institute

→ With global warming, new sea lanes are opening up and with them new opportunities but also new competition. The various countries in the region are claiming more and more land in the hope of appropriating natural resources: oil, fishing, but also fresh water. Local populations must adapt to these climatic and geopolitical tensions. How can we ensure peace at the crossroads of these political, economic, ecological and social issues?

SPACE: ENDLESS COVETING?

In partnership with Diplomatie Magazine

→ Despite the 1967 Space Treaty, which aims to protect it, the ambitions of the great powers, and now of billionaires, threaten the neutrality of space. What are the stakes behind this coveting? How is geopolitical competition reflected in one of the last spaces of conquest and discovery?

➔ 60 years after Algeria's independence, relations between France and what was, for 132 years, a colony of the empire, have still not calmed down. The report "Memorial Questions on Colonisation and the Algerian War" by Benjamin Stora, submitted in January to the Elysée, was received coldly on the other side of the Mediterranean. Emmanuel Macron has made the reconciliation of memories in France, and with Algeria where he visited on 25 August, one of the issues of his presidency.

→ The fall of the Berlin Wall made it possible to imagine a more open world embodied by the European market model and peaceful globalisation. However, three decades later, the world seems to have closed up. Social networks have created echo chambers of xenophobic and nationalist rhetoric calling for walls and closed borders, accompanied by electoral success for the populist far right in many states. Is the world really closing up, and if so, why?
