THE NORMANDY WORLD PEACE FORUM

An international event open to all, the Normandy World Peace Forum is a laboratory for thinking and mediation on the themes of peace, freedom and geopolitical developments in the contemporary world. Every year in June, over 200 renowned speakers and several thousand participants, including many secondary school students, meet in the historic grounds of the Abbaye aux Dames in Caen.

On the agenda : plenary conferences, topic-based debates, project presentations, testimonies, a pop-up bookshop with book-signings, exhibitions, meetings with NGOs and associations, etc.

Objective : to exchange views, encourage discussions and the search for solutions to help to build lasting peace in the world.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE 2019 FORUM

There were many highlights to this 2nd Forum on the theme «The Peacemakers»

The opening of the Forum by Denis Mukwege, 2018 Nobel Peace Prize winner and its closing by Jean-Yves Le Drian, Minister for Europe and Foreign Affairs.

The presentation of The Normandy Manifesto for World Peace by its 6 authors and first signatories (Sundeep Waslekar, Anthony Grayling and 4 Nobel Prize winners : Denis Mukwege, Mohamed ElBaradei, Jody Williams and Leymah Gbowee) to warn of the need to build a new international security system.

The Freedom Prize awarded to the young Swede Greta Thunberg in front of a crowd of veterans : a moment of intense emotion and exchanges between generations.

The Walk Global Walk scheme : nearly 800 young people from Normandy who came to present their work on the UN's Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

The presentation of the European Parliament's Normandy Index, which measures conflict on a global scale, country by country, in the presence of Ioan Mircea Pașcu, Vice-President of the European Parliament.

The launch of the Normandy for Peace Chair of Excellence in the presence of Pierre Denise, President of Caen Normandy University and Antoine Petit, President of the CNRS.

MOVING TOWARDS THE 2020 FORUM

PREVENTING WAR : RESPONDING TO NEW THREATS

The 3rd Normandy World Peace Forum will be held for the first time over three days, on 3, 4 and 5 June 2020, at the Abbaye aux Dames in Caen. This 3rd Forum will examine the major issues of conflict prevention, such as environmental challenges, access to education and understanding new technologies, on the theme "Preventing war : responding to new threats".

ON THE AGENDA

Each day, a major plenary conference will provide a comprehensive overview of the Forum's theme, cross-referencing experiences and testimonies. The conferences are in a dynamic format, the topics of the conferences being developed around an alternation of video reports and talks by a panel of public figures.

Over the three days, some thirty thematic debates will go into the conferences in more depth and address topical issues from the perspectives of experts, political representatives and civil society with complementary profiles.

The Village for Peace is open all the time, providing the public with spaces for meetings, exhibitions, presentations of NGO work and projects certified Normandy for Peace, a pop-up bookshop, etc. On the Wednesday afternoon, a cultural programme will be more particularly designed for families.

The Forum will host a morning of debates and testimonies on the role of women in promoting peace. The Forum's nightly events will feature a documentary screening evening on Wednesday, 3 June and a literary evening on Friday, 5 June. Hosted by Jérôme Garcin, in partnership with the news magazine L'Obs, it will bring together renowned authors committed to peace and freedom.

Organized in partnership with members of the Normandy for Peace network, international discussion and mediation sessions will be hosted throughout the Forum.

And as usual key events dedicated to youth, including :

The 2nd Freedom Prize, which will be held on Wednesday afternoon 3 June, awarded to a personality or an organization engaged in an exemplary fight for freedom.

Walk The Global Walk, on Thursday afternoon 4 June, which will bring together nearly 800 young people from Normandy to present their work on the UN Sustainable Development Goal (SDO) no.13 : Take urgent action to combat climate change and its impacts.

Free event open to all.
